Powhatan State Park, on the Historic James, opened in the summer of 2013 and is one of Virginia's newest state parks. Located on the edge of the James River in the northwest corner of Powhatan County, the park offers 1,565 acres of a diverse habitat for wildlife from open fields to wonderful upland hardwood forests. Access to the river is through multiple car top boat slides in the park. Twenty nine RV sites, 3 yurts and 9 canoe-in campsites are available for rental.
